

TASK 4

~~My~~ My chosen project is Space station: controls and communication where we will learn how to develop and validate the communication and control system by operating Rover over extensive distances. This itself makes it very interesting. I always wanted to know how rovers communicate over such vast distances and this project gives me an opportunity to learn about its technology. That's why I am very much excited !!